REPORT

ANNOUNCEMENTS
REVIEWER ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Psychologists from ten different countries served as consultants and reviewers for manuscripts submitted for publication in the fourteen volumes of the Review of Psychology. Some of them did that work repeatedly. The Editorial Board gratefully acknowledges the assistance of the following persons and kindly asks them to continue their collaboration with the Review of Psychology. The quality of the journal is primarily dependent on the quality of reviews, so the reviewers directly influence the profile of our journal. Their generous contribution of time, effort, and expertise is greatly appreciated.

Aims and scope

Review of Psychology publishes semiannually original articles concerning all topics in scientific and applied psychology. The emphasis is on empirically based articles but theoretical, methodological and review papers, critical surveys, as well as open-peers commentaries will also be included. The articles have to be of interest to the entire community of psychologists, and especially to the Alps Adria psychologists’ community. Therefore historical papers, approaches or schools of thought and cross-cultural studies within the Alps Adria Region will be welcome.

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Manuscript preparation: Please submit manuscripts in triplicate to the Editor. They should be no more than 25 double spaced pages long, including references. Pages must be marked with numbers; footnotes, if possible, should be avoided. Please leave wide margins. Titles of manuscript, the author’s name, the professional affiliation, and the address for correspondence should be listed on a separate sheet.

Authors should prepare manuscripts according to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.). Any manuscript which does not conform to these guidelines may be returned for necessary revision before reviewing. All manuscripts submitted for consideration as regular articles are mask reviewed by two reviewers (usually coming from nondomestic Alps Adria Region).

Submitting the manuscript the author declares that he/she has not published the paper anywhere else.

Abstract and Keywords: All manuscripts must include an abstract containing a maximum of 200 words typed on a separate page. This sheet of paper should contain the title of the manuscript excluding name(s) of the author(s). After the abstract, please supply up to five keywords or brief phrases and suggest a running head.

Headings: Indicate headings and subheadings for different sections of the paper clearly. Do not number headings.

Reference citations within the text: Use authors’ last names, with the year of publication in parentheses after the last author’s name, e.g., “Hardy and Weiss (1987)”; alternatively, “(Hardy & Weiss, 1987)”. On first citation of references with three to six authors, give all names in full, thereafter use first author “et al.”. If more than one article by the same author(s) in the same year is cited, the letters a, b, c, etc. should follow the year. Any direct quotation, regardless of length, must be accompanied by a reference citation that includes a page number.

Reference list: A full list of references quoted in the text should be given at the end of the paper (each listed reference should be cited in text) in alphabetical order of authors’ surnames (or chronologically for a group of references by the same authors), commencing as a new sheet. Examples:

Journal Article:

If the original version of a non-english article is cited in References, please give the original title and put the English translation in brackets, e.g.:

Book:

Chapter in an edited book:

Tables: Tables should be kept to the minimum. Each table should be typed double spaced on a separate sheet, giving the heading, e.g., “Table 2”, in Arabic numerals. Make sure that appropriate units are given. Instructions for placing the table should be given in parentheses in the text, e.g., “(Table 2 about here)”.

Figures: The same data should not be presented both as a figure and in a table. Where possible, related diagrams should be grouped together to form a single figure. Figures should be drawn to professional standards. Each of these should be on a separate page, not integrated with the text. Figures will be reproduced directly from originals supplied by the author(s). These must be of good quality, clearly and completely lettered. Make sure that axes of graphs are properly labeled, and that appropriate units are given. Avoid pale tints, especially in bar graphs.

Statistics: Results of statistical tests should be given in the following form:

“... ANOVA found a significant main effect for sex (F (1, 18) = 77.04, p < .05); and for orientation (F (2, 18) = 48.08, p < .05); but no interaction (F (2,18) = 3.79, p > .05)”

“The percentage of participants that were married did not differ by gender, χ²(1, N = 90) = 0.89, p > .05”

“The two variables were strongly correlated, r(55) = .49, p < .01”

Other tests should be reported in a similar manner to the above examples. For a fuller explanation of statistical presentation, see pages 136-147 of the APA Publication Manual (5th ed.). For guidelines on presenting statistical significance, see pages 24-25.
